Twelfth Night

The Night of Luminaries has been rescheduled for Tuesday, December 12 from 5:30 pm to 8:00 pm. The date was moved from November 30 due to inclement weather. During Night of Luminaries, approximately 1500 candle-lit paper bags will illuminate the campus drive. The candle-lit paper bags have been individually decorated during the past several weeks by the kindergarten through sixth grade students enrolled in all elementary schools in Conway County, along with the Center for Exceptional Children.

Individuals attending the event should enter the campus through the Bruce Street entrance on the east end of the college property. The official route will take vehicles behind the Kirk Building before passing the Science Building and the Technology II and Technology III Buildings. The route will continue west past the Fine Arts Building to the UACCM Plaza, where visitors may stop for hot chocolate, hot apple cider, and cookies.

Santa Claus will make a special appearance at the Plaza to distribute toys to children. The public is invited to attend this free event.

“Hope, like the gleaming taper’s light, adorns and cheers our way; and still, as darker grows the night, emits a brighter ray.”

Oliver Goldsmith, 1730-1774
British Poet & Novelist

Is That Your Final Answer?
Final Exam Schedule

The schedule for final exams for the fall 2006 semester is listed below. You will note that the last exam should end at 2:20 p.m. on Thursday, December 14, for regularly scheduled day classes. Exams for evening classes (those classes which begin after 4 pm) will be given at the time the class normally meets during the week of final exams. Thus, a class which begins at 5:00 pm on Tuesday and Thursday would hold its final exam at 5:00 pm on Tuesday, December 12.

Night classes that meet at 6:00 pm will observe finals as follows: Monday night classes on December 11; Tuesday night classes on December 12; Wednesday night classes on December 13; and Thursday night classes on December 14.
