

“Let Me Out”

By, Amanda Randall

Let me out mother.

Let me see the world.

Let me hear the birds and feel the grass once more.

Let me go father.

Let me go out.

Let me go taste the morning dew and smell the flowers or I may shout.

Let me world.

Let me back outside.

Let me touch my loved ones, and I shall no longer cry.